11. Alternate source. The following other possible sources for the good, service, or construction were investigated but do not meet our needs because: Time Warner Telecom was investigated but does not meet our needs because it cannot meet all specified facility security requirements. It is also not a pure colocation facility as the use of its facility requires that the vendee purchase and use its data circuits. In contrast, DRFortress is a pure colocation facility and provides cross connects to all the major data carriers. DLNR is thus able to use the State's approved telecom carrier HawaiianTelcom. Systemmetrics and Century Computers were also investigated but they do not meet our needs because they do not own their own colocation facility but use DRFortress as their colocation facility and provide third party services on top of it.
